Welcome to Daltrail!

Back in 1910 my great grand parents Fred and Henrietta Nason started to bring tourists into the California wilderness on horseback. Their son Fred JR and family are still guiding visitors to the remains of Esselen Indian village sites and ceremonial areas. Henrietta's mother Tomasa, was one of a bare handful of survivors of the tribe's original population. My family is my inspiration as well as the source of 100 years of experience of tourist operations with respect for the nature. I'm not only one of few descendants of the Esselen-Indians, but also a descendant of Spanish and Mexican conquerors, American pioneers, adventurers and cowboys.

As a reminder of the heritage we are using the old family brands "The Flying N" and "The Quarter circle FN" to mark our equipment, "Two Feathers Camp" is named in remembrance of my Uncle Jim Barker and carries his Indian name.

Jimmy Two Feathers was an outdoors person who wished that everyone around him would enjoy them selves, be happy and feel good. It's with that ambition we wish you welcome to Värmlands and Dalslands wonderful nature.
